

Credit Crunch

Credit Crunch is designed to show students the cost of credit card debt. Players are given different repayment scenarios, and must calculate their repayments over a year.

Student learning

Through Credit Crunch, students will:

- › Learn how to calculate minimum repayments
- › Understand the difference between simple interest, compounding interest and interest-only repayments.

Curriculum links

Personal Financial Management is a fundamental part of a young person's education. Credit Crunch is designed to support the key competencies. The game also has strong links to the Mathematics and Statistics and Social Sciences learning areas.
